AND ASKS PERTINENT QUESTIONS

He is Disgusted With the Maudlin Sentiment That, Because a Detective Ferrets Out Villainy and Exposes Law Breakers, the Criminals Should Go Free, and Emphasizes the Fact That Justice Must be Controlled by Evidence.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—In reading the daily papers of the last few days, and paying special attention to Lisbon court proceedings, I have been astounded at the amount of maudlin sentiment attempted to be wrought up in favor of saloon keepers and law breakers. The liquor dealers of this community are evidently at the bottom of the affair, but I am very glad to know that the honored judge at Lisbon has in every case put just and righteous sentences against transgressors.

If the saloon keepers of East Liverpool see fit to break the laws which control, if they persist in selling on Sunday, selling to habitual drunkards and minors, and in keeping open after hours, then they ought to be punished and punished severely, and they have not the shadow of right to call out for pity or sympathy. Note the attempt to make capital out of the fact that detectives have been employed to spy upon saloon keepers and catch them in their nefarious and illegal actions. Why should detectives not be employed? Ought not our constables and municipal officers to be constantly on the alert to catch criminals and law breakers? Are not our police officers employed for just such a purpose? Has not the Good Citizenship League, or any other law and order organization, the right to employ whom they please to ferret out rascality and have the rascals brought to merited punishment, as long as said associations keep within the limit of the law and legal work? Let me cite what the real plea of this maudlin sentiment for saloon keepers would show on its face, if stripped of its foolishness and weak sentimentality and clothed in plain common sense.

A saloon keeper is brought before the court. Four detectives have sworn positively that said saloon keeper was seen selling to minors, habitual drunkards, selling on Sunday and selling after legal hours. The jury was compelled to find him guilty, as there was no loophole for escape, and the members of said jury have been solemnly sworn to do their full duty and to be governed by the law and the evidence in the case. The prisoner is brought before the judge and questioned as follows:

"Prisoner at the bar, are you guilty or not guilty?"
 "Guilty, your honor."
 "Did you sell intoxicants on the Sabbath day?"
 "I did, your honor."
 "Did you sell intoxicants to minors and habitual drunkards?"
 "I did, your honor."
 "Did you keep your saloon open after legal hours, and sell in defiance of law?"
 "I did, your honor."
 "Well, sir, under these circumstances, with open acknowledgment of your guilt and bad actions, what have you to say why full and hot punishment should not be inflicted upon you?"

"Only this, 'your honor. I claim that I have been persecuted and hounded by this so-called Good Citizens League, and this East Liverpool Law and Order Society. I can prove that these detectives, employed by these societies, have watched my place, have sneaked around my house at all hours of the night, have spied upon me on Sunday and have induced habitual drunkards and boys to swear that they got whisky at my saloon. Why, sir, these scoundrels have staid out of their beds all night, in order that they might catch and convict me for keeping open after hours. Why, your honor, these detectives are scoundrels. They are not honest men. They do not pay their debts. They gamble and swear and even drink whisky. Yes sir, I can swear that they have drank whisky in my place of business. I do not believe, your honor, that I should be punished on account of the testimony of these sneaks and dishonest men. Of course I am guilty, as I have said; but, your honor, there should be good Christian men appear against me; good merchants and square business men; men of good repute and unimpeachable character and integrity. On these grounds, your honor, I claim that I should not be punished and should be discharged from custody."

Fellow citizens, do you imagine for a moment that any such plea as the above would have any weight with an honorable judge? Do you think for a moment that such a plea would be any excuse for this lawbreaker's actions? And yet, fellow citizens, this is, stripped of its sophistry, the very plea that has been set up in favor of men who are daily and nightly transgressing the law, cursing the lives of your boys, desecrating the Sabbath day, and pouring whisky down the throats of habitual drunkards—men so besotted and drunken that they can scarcely steady themselves long enough at the bar to pour liquid death and poison down their throats.

Again, fellow citizens, have not good men and women the right to band together and aim to see that the laws are not transgressed; that the Sabbath day is kept sacred; that habitual drunkards are not supplied with liquor; that the boys of their families, of their flesh and blood, are not supplied with a curse which will bring sorrow, suffering and keen humiliation across their hearthstone; and have not these good men and women the right to work in secret against bad men, be they saloonkeepers or not, and employ agents and all legal means to accomplish this work, without having their names exposed in open court, in order to put lawbreakers on their guard and thus defeat the aims of the law? We believe they have this right, and we are indeed glad to know that honorable judges will call down any attorney who attempts to expose these good men and women in the performance of their right and duty.

Again, fellow citizens, is it not the bounden duty of every constable to see that no gambling houses, no houses of ill-fame, no illegal liquor saloons or nuisances are permitted to remain in his bailiwick, and is it not his bounden and sworn duty to use every effort to locate these places, if they do exist, and use all legal measures to have such places suppressed. When a good citizen, known as such in the community, reports such an illegal place as existing, to an officer of the law, or to a constable, that officer must take cognizance of the report and affair, and use all due diligence in ascertaining if such a place does exist in his bailiwick, and then use every effort in the law to suppress it. This is law, as said constable will find to his sorrow if his neglect of duty is brought before the higher court.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for intruding to such an extent on your space, I remain, yours truly, GOOD CITIZEN.

One Youngster's Remembrance of How He Enjoyed the Last One.

Coming down Robinson street last night, the writer was overtaken by a bright boy of about 14 years of age, just boiling over with life and keen enjoyment thereof. As a two-horse wagon was passed on Walnut street, the vehicle standing on the side of the thoroughfare, where the driver had unhitched, the tongue of the rig pointing down toward the heavy grade commencing at "Poker" Anderson's, the lad broke out with:

"That there wagon is in bully position for tomorrow night. Wouldn't she go, hippity clip, if two or three of us boys had a good chance at her." Of course we called the youth down, and told him that such actions wouldn't do, even on "hollow eve," and that if he and his companions were caught red handed in the act, they would be arrested and punished heavily, as they would richly deserve to be, and the lad laughingly said that of course he wouldn't be guilty of such a thing, and that he was merely joking, and then he said:

"I may get into the same fix I was in last year. Mother was afraid I would get into trouble, and she tried to get me to promise not to engage in any of the fun going on, and when I wouldn't give her the promise, she made me go to bed and then took all my clothes and hid them and locked me in my bedroom. I'm up to snuff generally, but mother got ahead of me that time."

A GAME.

This Time the Football Boys Have a Game for Sure.

The foot ball eleven, after much talk and many announcements of games, have at last arranged a game for next Tuesday, election day, with the Steubenville athletic club. It is expected that the game will draw well here, as it is something new in East Liverpool. The ground will be marked off and ropes put up to keep the crowd back from the game.

Progressing Rapidly.

The erection of the building for the city, on the recently purchased McDole property, is being rapidly pushed. The necessity of a building to house the implements of the city is very apparent.

PROGRAM TOMORROW

The Route of March of the McKinley Clubs.

ACTION RECEPTION COMMITTEE

The Committee Will Meet the Governor at Steubenville and Accompany Him to East Liverpool—Route Over Which the East Liverpool and Wellsville Clubs Will March—Reception at the Rink—W. V. Blake Will Act as Chairman.

Full arrangements have been made by the various Republican committees for the reception of the chief magistrate of the state tomorrow night. Colonel John N. Taylor and Will L. Smith have been designated as the reception committee and will meet the governor at Steubenville, accompany him to this city and escort him to the residence of Mr. Taylor, on Sixth street, where he will be entertained during his brief stay in East Liverpool.

Manley's band will assemble at city hall at about 7 in the evening and make melody as they descend to Second street, out Second to Broadway, up Broadway to Fourth, out Fourth to Market, up Market to Fifth, to the McKinley club headquarters, where they will be joined by the two McKinley clubs, East Liverpool and Wellsville. From here the band will escort the clubs out to Colonel Taylor's residence, which they expect to reach about 20 minutes of 8 o'clock. Here they will pick up Governor McKinley and his friends, march out Sixth to Monroe, then to Fifth, and up Fifth to rink.

The East Liverpool McKinley club will be under control of the following officers: Captain, George Ashbaugh; first lieutenant, William Hill; second lieutenant, Al Johnson.

W. V. Blake will fill the berth of chairman at the rink, and will have the honor of introducing the governor.

By the way, members of the East Liverpool McKinley club, don't forget that this is the regular night of meeting, and that every member of the organization is expected to be present.

The Citizens of Madison Township Take a Hand in Politics.

There was an enthusiastic assemblage of citizens present at Alderick school house, Madison township, last night, to listen to speakers P. M. Ashford and Ross W. Firestone discuss political questions of the day. Mr. Ashford turned on the light on Candidate Campbell's foolish assertion that the tariff and kindred matters are "dead issues," and in an eloquent and strong argument, satisfied his audience that Mr. Campbell will, about election day, find that the issues mentioned are extremely "live" ones, and that the designated dead features will prove the most lively corpse known to political history.

Speaker Firestone made numerous happy hits during his speech, and brought down the house when he asserted that Campbell has much method in his madness in scooping in Brice's boodle, as it is the would-be governor's best plan of getting square with Brice in the matter of that $20,000 which the New Yorker enucleated him out of in Wall street some time since. He demonstrated, to the satisfaction of his hearers, that Jimmie Campbell is in the present race for revenue only.

That are Being Added to the Ceramic City Light Plant.

A year ago today the electric light plant was burned to the ground: in the incredibly short time of 48 hours, the management improvised a structure, in order that the public would not be inconvenienced by having to wander around in darkness. Too much credit cannot be given the company for the energetic and prompt action displayed in rebuilding the plant. Everything has been in good order since and the public should be grateful for the excellent service that has been rendered. In order that better facilities may be obtained, the plant is being enlarged to double its present capacity. A new dynamo and an ideal engine have been added to the machinery. THE CUTTING SCRAPE

Trial of Densmore For Knifing William Poyser.

J. H. BROOKES FOR THE DEFENSE

The Dew Drop Saloon Difficulty Now Up in Court—Evidence for the State All in and the Defense at Work—Evidence Strongly Against the Prisoner.

The case of the state versus Patrick Densmore is on at Lisbon. Our readers are conversant with this terrible cutting affray, as William Poyser, the victim, was not expected to live, in consequence of the awful wounds inflicted by Densmore upon him in the Dew Drop saloon, East Liverpool. The defense is looked after by Jason H. Brookes, of this city.

William Poyser, prosecuting witness, was first called, and gave in full the story of the difficulty between himself and Densmore, stating how the defendant had "riled" him to fight by persistently following him up and calling him bad names. The wounds on the person of the injured man were then exhibited to the jury, and the witness testified that he still experienced severe trouble from them, more especially in the circulation of the blood, which was very seriously impeded owing to the wounds in the bowels, which caused him to be moving about almost all the time.

Cornelius Smith testified to having witnessed the fight in Dew Drop saloon, and of Densmore attacking him, Smith, after the attack had been made upon Poyser.

Doctor Taylor testified to finding Poyser in an apparently dying condition at about the hour of 6 o'clock. The physician then gave the jury a minute description of the nature and character of the wounds in the bowels and upon the lip. Doctor Taylor, addressing the court, gave it as his opinion that Densmore's victim would not be able to attend to his work this winter, owing to the nature of the wounds in the bowels and the shock to the injured man's nervous system.

William Poyser was then recalled for cross-examination on the part of the defense, when he made the statement that since his trouble with Densmore, he had been sent for by the latter, and an effort had been made to hush the matter up. The defense endeavored to show, through Poyser, that just before the sitting of the recent grand jury, Poyser had said to Reuben Densmore, James Wiley and Frank Densmore, at the home of a Mr. Delaney, that if they would pay him the sum of $400, he would swear to anything they desired before the grand jury; or, if they preferred it, he would go to England and not be present at all. And they testified that, at another time, at Poyser's own home, he had accepted a settlement by the Densmore brothers agreeing to pay him the sum of $200. This statement was denied in toto by William Poyser.

Elmer McMillen, who was in the Dew Drop saloon at the time of the cutting affray, was examined and told his story, about the same in substance as that of Poyser.

C. Morelev, Frank Dickey and Jack Davis were then examined, the pith of their testimony being that they were present in the saloon and witnessed the fight. This closed the testimony for the state, which rested.

John Dougherty, first witness for defense, with testimony showing that he was present on the evening of the fight, but made no new developments. James Kerns gave testimony that he was present at the fight, and when Densmore came in he and Poyser had hot words.

William Quinn stated that he was in the saloon and that Densmore and Poyser were standing at the bar drinking when the trouble rose by hard names being called, and Smith and Borton assaulted Densmore. After this, almost immediately, the cutting of Poyser occurred.

Mrs. Mary McFadden, proprietor of the saloon, was next called and said: "They were leaving the saloon, and when they were near the door I saw Densmore strike Poyser and then fall; Densmore, Poyser and Smith clenched and all fell in a heap on the floor, Densmore at the bottom. After they arose I saw Densmore with a knife in his hand."

Peter Gallagher sworn—I was at the saloon all afternoon on Saturday. Densmore came in about 2 o'clock and had a glass of beer and started to sing, then they got to quarrelling; then they went outside and came back and clenched. I then saw Pat Densmore with a knife in his hand. After Poyser was cut, did not see him again.

The East Liverpool McKinley club here, is guilty of an offence that he should be punished for. The other day his teacher took him to task for some misdemeanor committed and informed him that if he did not behave himself more like a gentleman in the future, he would be forced to adopt more stringent measures to make him conform with the rules of the school. Upon hearing this, the boy became rude and boisterous and the teacher, to quiet him, grasped him by the arm and attempted to lead him to his seat. He immediately commenced to struggle with her, and attempted to choke her. Finally the pugnacious scholar was forced into submission and compelled to take his seat. Too much condemnation cannot be given the lad for his conduct; he certainly should be severely punished.

The new features added should meet with encouragement from the general public. The city would be benefited by it, rendering it possible for a number of industries that require this power to build their works here.

OLD VETERANS.

The Boys Who Wore the Blue Are McKinley's Friends.

Of course they are, and they have just cause for their friendship, as Major McKinley was the private soldier's friend and counselor when on duty in the front, during the late unpleasantness with our southern brethren. And Governor McKinley is no less their friend in time of peace than Major McKinley was in time of war. In every act of his life, when dealing with the old veterans, the chief magistrate of the Buckeye state has shown his genuine liking for his old comrades. He has been unsparing in his denunciation of the bad treatment accorded the old boys by Grover Cleveland and his henchman, Hoke Smith, of Georgia, with Andersonville characteristics predominating in the mind of the last-named individual and carried out in his official actions. The boys who wore the blue will be glad to meet and greet Comrade McKinley at the rink tomorrow night.

AN UNRULY SCHOLAR.

One Who Should Be Taught Obedience to Rules.

An unruly boy, who attends school here, is guilty of an offence that he should be punished for. The other day his teacher took him to task for some misdemeanor committed and informed him that if he did not behave himself more like a gentleman in the future, he would be forced to adopt more stringent measures to make him conform with the rules of the school. Upon hearing this, the boy became rude and boisterous and the teacher, to quiet him, grasped him by the arm and attempted to lead him to his seat. SHE WAXED ANGRY.

And She Breathed Forth Vows of Vengeance.

Mrs. Carroll, nee Bashor, nee Fleming, who was bound over to the grand jury yesterday by Mayor Gilbert, vehemently declared that she would not permit anyone to become her bondsman, and for every day that she was forced to remain in the jail, the city of East Liverpool would pay very dearly. Calm and tranquil consideration caused her eventually to change her mind on this subject and she graciously permitted Esquire A. R. Gould to give the necessary bond for her. Strange as it may appear to people of a nervous organization, Mayor Gilbert did not seem frightened or agitated during the time these threats were being indulged in by the indignant prisoner.

OH MY, OH MY.

These Republicans Wear Sackcloth and Ashes.

They are prominent officials and business men. They are very desirous of being present at the McKinley meeting at the rink tomorrow night. They have subpoenas summoning them to appear at Lisbon tomorrow, to give evidence in the Fastbird case. They are very indignant and they are doing everything possible to be excused. Pity them, for they are in an awful stew. Selah.

Cowardly Fitzsimmons.

The universal verdict of the sports in this section, after reading the morning papers, is that Fitzsimmons is a coward from Cowardville, and that he did everything in his power to avoid a fight with Champion Corbett. Prize fighting is to be deprecated, and the law should put an end to such disgraceful work; but there is in every man's heart a credit for courage, even if it be but physical courage.

Young Toughs.

The insolent young scoundrels who are in the habit of carrying on in a disgraceful manner in the postoffice room were called down by Postmaster M. E. Miskall today, and when the young blackguards reached the street, they made use of awful language. If they try it again, Mayor Gilbert will incarcerate them in the cooler or give them a salty fine.

The defense is looked after by Jason H. Brookes, of this city.

William Poyser, prosecuting witness, was first called, and gave in full the story of the difficulty between himself and Densmore, stating how the defendant had "riled" him to fight by persistently following him up and calling him bad names. The wounds on the person of the injured man were then exhibited to the jury, and the witness testified that he still experienced severe trouble from them, more especially in the circulation of the blood, which was very seriously impeded owing to the wounds in the bowels, which caused him to be moving about almost all the time.

Cornelius Smith testified to having witnessed the fight in Dew Drop saloon, and of Densmore attacking him, Smith, after the attack had been made upon Poyser.

Doctor Taylor testified to finding Poyser in an apparently dying condition at about the hour of 6 o'clock. The physician then gave the jury a minute description of the nature and character of the wounds in the bowels and upon the hip. Doctor Taylor, addressing the court, gave it as his opinion that Densmore's victim would not be able to attend to his work this winter, owing to the nature of the wounds in the bowels and the shock to the injured man's nervous system.

William Poyser was then recalled for cross-examination on the part of the defense, when he made the statement that since his trouble with Densmore, he had been sent for by the latter, and an effort had been made to hush the matter up. The defense endeavored to show, through Poyser, that just before the sitting of the recent grand jury, Poyser had said to Reuben Densmore, James Wiley and Frank Densmore, at the home of a Mr. Delaney, that if they would pay him the sum of $400, he would swear to anything they desired before the grand jury; or, if they preferred it, he would go to England and not be present at all. And they testified that, at another time, at Poyser's own home, he had accepted a settlement by the Densmore brothers agreeing to pay him the sum of $200. This statement was denied in toto by William Poyser.

Elmer McMillen, who was in the Dew Drop saloon at the time of the cutting affray, was examined and told his story, about the same in substance as that of Poyser.

C. Moreley, Frank Dickey and Jack Davis were then examined, the plth of their testimony being that they were present in the saloon and witnessed the fight. This closed the testimony for the state, which rested.

John Dougherty, first witness for defense, with testimony showing that he was present on the evening of the fight, but made no new developments.

James Kerns gave testimony that he was present at the fight, and when Densmore came in he and Poyser had hot words.

William Quinn stated that he was in the saloon and that Densmore and Poyser were standing at the bar drinking when the trouble rose by hard names being called, and Smith and Borton assaulted Densmore. After this, almost immediately, the cutting of Poyser occurred.

Mrs. Mary McFadden, proprietor of the saloon, was next called and said: "They were leaving the saloon, and when they were near the door I saw Densmore strike Poyser and then fall; Densmore, Poyser and Smith clenched and all fell in a heap on the floor, Densmore at the bottom. After they arose I saw Densmore with a knife in his hand."

Peter Gallagher sworn—I was at the saloon all afternoon on Saturday. Densmore came in about 2 o'clock and had a glass of beer and started to sing, then they got to quarrelling; then they went outside and came back and clenched. I then saw Pat Densmore with a knife in his hand. After Poyser was cut, did not see him again.

GUIANA'S RULER TALKS

He Expects No War Between England and Venezuela.

AMERICAN CONCESSION ALL RIGHT.

The Governor General Says It Is Not Within the British Sphere and Will Provoke No Trouble—Venezuela Seems Anxious to Grant England's Demand.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Sir Charles Cameron Lees, K. C. M. G., governor of British Guiana, has arrived at Plymouth, having been recalled to England to confer with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain on the Venezuelan boundary question. Sir Charles was seen upon his arrival by your representative, who sought to obtain his views upon the Venezuelan question, and to whom he accorded an interview. He said: "I regard the frontier outrage (the so-called Uruan incident) as a purely individual act, as the British subjects, Barnes and Baker, who were arrested by the Venezuelan officer, when brought before the higher representatives of the Venezuelan government were asked by them to return to the British territory. But they declined, on the ground that there was no means of transit back."

The Uruan incident referred to by Sir Charles was that upon which the reported British ultimatum to Venezuela was based. A British sergeant of police (the Barnes above referred to), and two assistants crossed the river at Uruan and planted the British flag on the Venezuelan side. The Venezuelan police tore down the flag, drove the intruders across the stream and subsequently arrested them. While on their way to Ciudad Bolivar, with their prisoners, they were instructed from Caracas to release the Englishmen and to permit them to return to British Guiana. The British government demands reparation for these arrests.

Sir Charles Lees was asked further to explain the action of the Guiana high council involving its disapproval of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's suggestion for the purchase of Maxim guns to be taken to the Venezuelan frontier. Sir Charles said:

"With regard to this vote, the matter was purely an imperial one. There is only a post consisting of seven men at Uruan, being merely a police station to mark the frontier on the Schomburgk boundary line, and there is practically no military station there, although the colonial government has repeatedly asked the imperial government for a supply of Maxim guns."

Your representative asked the governor if any difficulty was likely to arise out of the concessions made to American capitalists by Venezuela. He said: "No concessions have been made within the British sphere of influence, and there is no difficulty likely to arise."

"I have no idea that there will be any serious resistance to the British demands growing out of the Uruan incident, as the Venezuelan government seems desirous of doing everything possible to repair any injury done to British subjects."

LINCOLN MONUMENT A FRAUD.

The Trustees Decide That the Historic Pile Must Be Torn Down.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 31.—The Lincoln monument at Oak Ridge cemetery, which has for the past 30 years been admired by thousands upon thousands of people from all over the world, will have to be torn down.

When the state trustees set about to arrange for repairs they discovered that the magnificent monument erected to the memory of "Honest Old Abe" was a sham and a fraud. What appears to be huge blocks of granite were nothing but thin slabs laid over bricks.

To Report on the Alaskan Boundary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The report of the joint commissioners appointed under the convention made in 1892 between Great Britain and the United States for the survey of the territory of the United States and Canada adjacent to the boundary line dividing Alaska and Canada will be made in the course of the next three months. General Dufferin, chief of the coast and geologic survey, is the commissioner on behalf of the United States, and D. F. King serves in a like capacity for Great Britain.

Will Ask For Recognition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Thomas Estrada Palma, delegate of the Cuban revolutionary party, has received advice that the Cuban assembly (or deputies) have appointed him minister plenipotentiary. Senator Palma said that the most important duty he will have to perform as minister is to ask the government of the United States for recognition of the Cuban insurgents as belligerents.

Turkey Warned by Olney.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—United States Minister Terrell has cabled to the state department a practical confirmation of the press reports of the recent Armenian massacres. A European Conference Probable.

THE DURRANT TRIAL.

District Attorney Barnes Makes a Thrilling Speech For the Prosecution.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—District Attorney Barnes has appeared as the high central figure in the last scene of the trial of Theodore Durrant, while the spectators in the crowded courtroom craned their necks to catch every word of the speaker. He delivered what is considered in many respects one of the strongest arguments ever made to a California jury. Aside from being logical and convincing in his discussion of the testimony, he made two or three dramatic plays that put a severe test to the iron nerves of the prisoner.

Mr. Barnes began his argument by dwelling upon the personalities of Miss Lamont and Durrant, and outlining the grounds upon which the state bases its contention that no one but Durrant could be the murderer.

He will conclude his argument this afternoon, when the jury will be charged and the fate of Durrant placed in their keeping.

MAXIM GUNS ORDERED.

England Preparing to Defend the Frontier of British Guiana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The state department has been furnished further details of the status of affairs in British Guiana concerning the boundary agitation. It covers the press publications at Demerara up to October 16. In pursuance of the policy of the British foreign office, Captain Marshall and Inspector Coyle of the British colonial constabulary or militia have been dispatched to inspect the outpost of Uruan, where the conflict with Venezuelans occurred. The semi-official announcement is made at Demerara that the departure of the officers and their party is in connection with the recent dispatches from Minister Chamberlain.

The Maxim-Nordenfolt Gun and Ammunition company is in communication with the authorities at Demerara as a result of an order already placed with the company, and the prospects of further orders.

Cox and Mayor Snodgrass, the dwelling of Miss Belle Burrows, and partially destroyed the dwellings of James Young and Mrs. Belford. The total loss will be $12,000, only partly insured. The conflagration originated in the office of Dr. F. V. Cox and communicated to the adjoining buildings.

Trying to Trade Collins For Holmes.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31.—It is said in baseball circles that the Boston club is trying to trade Third Baseman Collins for Outfielder Holmes and another player. Holmes is to take the place of McCarthy, who, it is said, will be displaced by Boston. Collins has said he would not play in Boston, preferring Louisville to any other city. It is not known whether the deal will go through or not, but such a proposition is said to have been made by Manager Seale.

Corpses Held to a Fence.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 31.—Bud Smith, a prominent and influential colored Mason and K. of K., while out hunting near Gauley bridge, in getting over a fence accidentally discharged his gun, the charge entering his leg. He bled to death in a short while. When found the corpse was holding on to the fence as the man was when he died.

After Plate Glassworks.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31.—The Dupauw Plate glassworks at New Albany and Alexandria, Ind., will be sold to the highest bidder on Nov. 30. The American Plate Glass company has begun work at the plant. It has bid $800,000, and relies on the hope that no one will go above that figure. It is intimated that the plate glass trust will make a higher bid.

Shot For a Turkey.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 31.—While hunting turkeys near the Huntingdon and Fulton county line, William Hunter mistook Thomson Foster for a turkey and shot at No. 4 shot into Foster's body, some of them striking him in vital parts, and all so deep that they could not be found with a probe. Foster is still living, but his condition is critical.

Tanneries Ordered Closed.

PIEDMONT, W. Va., Oct. 31.—Orders have been issued from the headquarters of the United States Leather company, in New York, for the immediate and indefinite closing of the Pawpaw and Davis tanneries of the company in this state. The reason given is the low price of hides. They are the largest tanneries in the trust.

FITZ. UNDER ARREST.

He Refused to Dodge Governor Clark's Officers.

THE PUGS TO APPEAR IN COURT.

Corbett Agrees to Go to Little Rock and Fitzsimmons Will Be Taken There. The Latter Acting as If He Was Dodging a Fight.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 31.—An agreement has been reached between counsel for the Hot Springs Athletic club and Attorney General Kinsworthy by which Corbett is to be brought to Little Rock today to answer to the warrant issued from Pulaski county and the fight is temporarily postponed pending a hearing of the case. Each one of the opposing forces seem to be quietly resting on their arms, each confident of the victory. Brigadier General Taylor of the Arkansas state guard has held numerous conferences with the governor, as a result of which the state militia has been ordered to hold itself in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

Governor Clark continued with renewed energy his efforts to bar the gates against Fitzsimmons, and sheriffs and deputy sheriffs were sent to block every point of ingress against the New Zealander. The situation became extremely ludicrous, for it was plain to every one that Sheriff Houtp and the Garland county authorities had arranged themselves on the side of the sporting element, and the spectacle of two sheriffs, each armed with warrants, one to prevent a fight, one to facilitate it, both on the state border waiting for Fitzsimmons and the probability of a row between the two officers over the possession of the coveted pugilist, presented itself.

Later Governor Clark received a telegram stating that in the race between the rival sheriffs, Houtp had won, and that the Garland county officer had met Fitzsimmons' party at Marshall, Tex., from which point the whole party, in charge of Houtp, had taken a special train for Shreveport, La., intending to reach Hot Springs by a circuitous route by the way of Alexandria, thence over the Cotton Belt to Camden. From Camden the Garden branch would bring the party to the main line of the Iron Mountain and thence to Malvern and Hot Springs. Telegrams were quickly dispatched by the governor to the sheriffs of the counties through which the special train was to pass. These telegrams said: "Spare no effort; capture Fitzsimmons and hold him for the sheriff of Pulaski county."

A posse was placed at New Louisville, the first station over the state line, another bunch of officers at Camden, while Sheriff Booker of Pulaski was sent to Malvern to assist the sheriff at that point. Then came the information that the special train would avoid stops at all points where officers were liable to be encountered, and the excitement increased.

Governor Clark was greatly chagrined at Sheriff Houtp's action, and said he ought to be punished for conspiracy, and in the district attorney's office it was said that a warrant for the sheriff's arrest on such a charge would be applied for.

Chancellor Martin, who issued the Pulaski county warrant for Corbett's arrest, came to the governor's assistance and telegraphed to Corbett at Hot Springs that if he engaged in a fight pending a hearing on the warrant that he would be in contempt of court, liable to 12 months' imprisonment in jail. Colonel Murphy, one of the club's counsel, was then consulted, and it was then agreed that after the disposition of the Hot Springs case Corbett would be brought to Little Rock today to answer before Chancellor Martin and that no fight would occur in the meantime. This decision was communicated to Attorney General Kinsworthy, who is at Hot Springs. Mr. Kinsworthy at once telephoned Governor Clark the facts, and it was decided that the soldiers should not be sent over at present.

Later news received here says Fitzsimmons and Julian were arrested by Sheriff Dillard of Miller county at Fulton and sent back to Texarkana on a special to come to Little Rock over the Cotton Belt via Pine Bluff. Sheriff Houtp was with the party and is under arrest. They will be taken before Judge Martin to-day.

A Hot Springs special says: Corbett has disappeared and is believed to be hiding some place ready to fight. Railroad officials had a special ready to bring Fitzsimmons into Hot Springs from the Cotton Belt and Iron Mountain crossing, but he refused to accept the special and later was arrested. Brady says Fitzsimmons did this to keep from meeting Corbett.

Sheriff Houtp has arrived here and says that Fitzsimmons by his actions evidently wanted to be arrested by the officers of Governor Clark. He refused to submit to arrest by the Hot Springs officer, although assured that a special train was ready to take him to Hot Springs without molestation.

A Writ Against Corbett.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Judge Bradley has granted a peremptory mandamus against Secretary Carlisle upon the complaint of Charles C. Waters of Little Rock. Waters was district attorney and brought suits in internal revenue cases, but the cases were never brought to trial, and although the fees, amounting to $600, were certified by the United States judge, the secretary held that under the law he could not examine and pass upon the account.

Three Cavalry Officers Killed.

GUIANA'S RULER TALKS

He Expects No War Between England and Venezuela.

AMERICAN CONCESSION ALL RIGHT.

The Governor General Says It Is Not Within the British Sphere and Will Provoke No Trouble—Venezuela Seems Anxious to Grant England's Demand.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Sir Charles Cameron Lees, K. C. M. G., governor of British Guiana, has arrived at Plymouth, having been recalled to England to confer with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain on the Venezuelan boundary question. Sir Charles was seen upon his arrival by his representative, who sought to obtain his views upon the Venezuelan question, and to whom he accorded an interview. He said:
"I regard the frontier outrage (the so-called Uruan incident) as a purely individual act, as the British subjects, Barnes and Baker, who were arrested by the Venezuelan officer, when brought before the higher representatives of the Venezuelan government were asked by them to return to the British territory. But they declined, on the ground that there was no means of transit back."

The Uruan incident referred to by Sir Charles was that upon which the reported British ultimatum to Venezuela was based. A British sergeant of police (the Barnes above referred to),
and two assistants crossed the river at Uruan and planted the British flag on the Venezuelan side. The Venezuelan police tore down the flag, drove the intruders across the stream and subsequently arrested them. While on their way to Ciudad Bolivar, with their prisoners, they were instructed from Caracas to release the Englishmen and to permit them to return to British Guiana. The British government demands reparation for these arrests.

Sir Charles Lees was asked further to explain the action of the Guiana high council involving its disapproval of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's suggestion for the purchase of Maxim guns to be taken to the Venezuelan frontier. Sir Charles said:

"With regard to this vote, the matter was purely an imperial one. There is only a post consisting of seven men at Uruan, being merely police station to mark the frontier on the Schom-burg boundary line, and there is practically no military station there, although the colonial government has repeatedly asked the imperial government for a supply of Maxim guns."

Your representative asked the governor if any difficulty was likely to arise out of the concessions made to American capitalists by Venezuela. He said:

"No concessions have been made within the British sphere of influence, and there is no difficulty likely to arise.
"I have no idea that there will be any serious resistance to the British demands growing out of the Uruan incident, as the Venezuelan government seems desirous of doing everything possible to repair any injury done to British subjects."

LINCOLN MONUMENT A FRAUD.

The Trustees Decide That the Historic Pile Must Be Torn Down.

ST. LOUIS, Ill., Oct. 31.—The Lincoln monument at Oak Ridge cemtery, which has for the past 20 years been admired by thousands upon thousands of people from all over the world, will have to be torn down.

When the state trustees set about to arrange for repairs they discovered that the magnificent monument erected to the memory of "Honest Old Abe" was a sham and a fraud. What appears to be huge blocks of granite were nothing but thin slabs laid over bricks.

To Report on the Alaskan Boundary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The report of tween Great Britain and the United States for the survey of the territory of the United States and Canada adjacent to the boundary line dividing Alaska and Canada will be made in the course of the next three months. General Duffield, chief of the coast and geodetic survey, is the commissioner on behalf of the United States, and D. F.

King serves in a like capacity for Great Britain.

THE DURRANT TRIAL.

District Attorney Barnes Makes a Thrilling Speech For the Prosecution.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—District Attorney Barnes has appeared as the high central figure in the last scene of the trial of Theodore Durrant, while the spectators in the crowded courtroom craned their necks to catch every word of the speaker. He delivered what is considered in many respects one of the strongest arguments ever made to a California jury. Aside from being logical and convincing in the discussion of the testimony, he made two or three dramatic by-plays that put a severe test to the iron nerves of the prisoner.

Mr. Barnes began his argument by dwelling upon the personalities of Miss Lamont and Durrant, and outlining the grounds upon which the state bases its contention that no one but Durrant could be the murderer.

He will conclude his argument this afternoon, when the jury will be charged and the fate of Durrant placed in their keeping.

MAXIM GUNS ORDERED.

England Preparing to Defend the Frontier of British Guiana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The state department has been furnished further details of the status of affairs in British Guiana concerning the boundary agisuance of the policy of the British foreign office, Captain Marshall and Inspector Coyle of the British colonial constabulary, or militia, have been dispatched to inspect the outpost of Uruan, where the conflict with Venezuela occurred. The semi-official announcement is made at Demerara that the departure of the officers and their party is in connection with the recent dispatches from Minister Chamberlain.

The Maxim-Nordenfolt Gun and Ammunition company is in communica-

as a result of an order already placed

Trying to Trade Collins For Holmes.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31.—It is said in baseball circles that the Boston club is trying to trade Third Baseman Collins for Outfielder Holmes and another player. Holmes is to take the place of McCarthy, who is said to be displaced by Boston. Collins has said he would not play in Boston, preferring Louisville to any other city. It is not known whether the deal will go through or not, but such a proposition is said to have been made by Manager Seale.

and relies on the hope that no one will that the plate glass trust will make a higher bid.

mer mistook Thomson Foster for a tur-

Clark's Officers.

THE PUGS TO APPEAR IN COURT.

Corbett Agrees to Go to Little Rock and Fitzsimmons Will Be Taken There.
The Latter Acting as if He Was Dodging a Fight.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 31.—An agreement has been reached between counsel for the Hot Springs Athletic club and Attorney General Kinsworthy by which Corbett is to be brought to Little Rock today to answer to the warrant issued from Pulaski county and the fight is temporarily postponed pending a hearing of the case. Each one of the opposing forces seem to be quietly resting on their arms, each confident of the victory. Brigadier General Taylor of the Arkansas state guard has held numerous conferences with the governor, as a result of which the state militia has been ordered to hold itself in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

Governor Clark continued with renewed energy his efforts to bar the gates against Fitzsimmons, and sheriffs and deputy sheriffs were sent to block every point of ingress against the New Zealander. The situation became extremely ludicrous, for it was plain to every one that Sheriff Houpt and the Garland county authorities had arranged themselves on the side of the sporting element, and the spectacle of two sheriffs, each armed with warrants, one to prevent a fight, one to facilitate it, both on the state border waiting for Fitzsimmons and the probability of a row between the two officers over the possession of the coveted puglist, presented itself.

Later Governor Clark received a telegram stating that in the race between the rival sheriffs, Houpt had won, and that the Garland county officer had met Fitzsimmons' party at Marshall, Tex., from which point the whole party, in charge of Houpt, had taken a special train for Shreveport, La., intending to reach Hot Springs
by a circuitous route by the way of Alexander, thence over the Cotton Belt to Camden. From Camden the Gordon branch would bring the party to the main line of the Iron Mountain and thence to Malvern and Hot Springs.
Telegrams were quickly dispatched by the governor to the sheriffs of the counties through which the special train was to pass. These telegrams said:
"Spare no effort; capture Fitzsimmons and hold him for the sheriff of Pulaski county."

A posse was placed at New Louisville, the first station over the state line, another bunch of officers at Camden, while Sheriff Booker of Pulaski was sent to Malvern to assist the sheriff at that point. Then came the information that the special train would avoid stops at all points where officers were liable to be encountered, and the excitement increased.

Governor Clark was greatly chagrined at Sheriff Houpt's action, and said he ought to be punished for conspiracy, and in the district attorney's office it was said that a warrant for the sheriff's arrest on such a charge would be applied for.

Chancellor Martin, who issued the Pulaski county warrant for Corbett's arrest, came to the governor's assistance and telegraphed to Corbett at Hot Springs that if he engaged in a fight pending a hearing on the warrant that he would be in contempt of court and liable to 12 months' imprisonment in jail. Colonel Murphy, one of the club's counsel, was then consulted, and it was then agreed that after the disposition of the Hot Springs case Corbett would be brought to Little Rock today and that no fight would occur in the meantime. This decision was communicated to Attorney General Kins-worthy, who is at Hot Springs. Mr.
Kinsworthy at once telephoned Governor Clark the facts, and it was decided that the soldiers should not be sent over at present.

Later news received here says Fitzsimmons and Julian were arrested by Sheriff Willard of Miller county at Fulton and sent back to Texarkana on a special to come to Little Rock over the Cotton Belt via Pine Bluff. Sheriff Houpt was with the party and is under arrest. They will be taken before Judge Martin to-day.

A Hot Springs special says: Corbett has disappeared and is believed to be hiding some place ready to fight. Railroad officials had special ready to bring Fitzsimmons into Hot Springs from the Cotton Belt and Iron Mountain crossing, but he refused to accept their offer and later was arrested.
Brady says Fitzsimmons did this to keep from meeting Corbett.

Sheriff Houpt has arrived here and says that Fitzsimmons by his actions evidently wanted to be arrested by the officers of Governor Clark. He refused to submit to arrest by the Hot Springs officer, although assured that a special train was ready to take him to Hot Springs without molestation.

ley has granted a peremptory man-brought to trial, and although the fees, amounting to $665, were certified by the United States judge, the secretary held that under the law he could not examine and pass upon the account.

SURE OF THE ROPE.

Mrs. Pitezel's Story Enough to Hang Holmes.

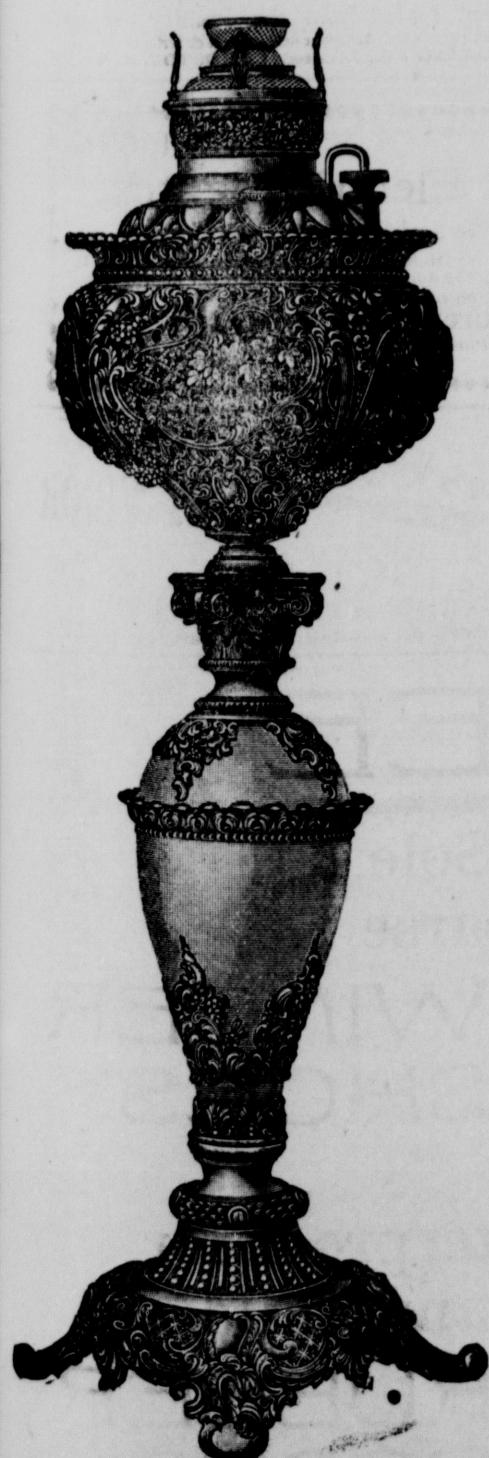

THE PRISONER SAT UNMOVED.

A Malicious Sneeze Even Played on His Features Over Some of Her Statements. The Poor Woman Had to Be Nerved Up With Medicine.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Four long hours, under the scrutinizing gaze of a courtroom crowded with strangers, a pale, worn woman underwent an ordeal which will have broken the nerve of many a strong man. She was Mrs. Carrie Alice Pitezel. With bravery and fortitude, she stood the test, in spite of the fact that her physical condition has been so shattered by the battery of woes under which she has all but succumbed, that she was obliged to interrupt her pitiful narrative at frequent intervals to accept spoonfuls of medicine from the trained nurse who attended her.

In a voice broken with grief she told the whole distressing story. How her husband was spirited away from her, and murdered out of sheer greed of gain; how she bade her little ones goodbye, confiding them to the care of the man Holmes in all trustfulness, little thinking that when next she should set eyes on them the two little girls would be lying side by side on the marble slab of a morgue, cold in death, and the boy a parcel of moldering bones. Between her bitter sobs, she related every detail—from the first meeting with Holmes almost up to today, and so affecting was the story that even District Attorney Graham, long used to tales of misery and distress, paused in the examination to wipe away a furtive tear. The woman's physical condition was such that the court crier had to repeat her testimony after her, because of her weak voice.

The EAGLE HARDWARE CO.

Such Beauties IN LAMPS Has Never Been shown In this city Before. Silk Shades and Globes In Latest Designs and Colors now on Display at

The EAGLE HARDWARE CO. Fifth Street, East Liverpool, O.

Throughout it all the shrunken, pallid figure in the dock—who to one unfamiliar with the shocking story would never be taken for the arch-criminal of the age—sat unmoved. Not a muscle quivered, not a lash moved even when the strain became so great that the hearing halted to give the wretched woman an opportunity to recover herself. Indeed, once or twice, as some statement from her lips struck a chord in his breast—if chords there be in such a man—a malicious sneer played around his thin and bloodless lips. But never once did the woman look towards him. During every moment of the long examination she kept her eyes riveted on the commonwealth's officers or counsel for the defense, as if fearing to shift the story to either side, lest in their course they should fall upon the face of the man in the dock.

Mrs. Pitezel told how Holmes dragged her around this country and to points in Canada since July, 29, 1894, under the belief that her husband was alive, but in trouble, and that he was trying to take her to her husband. Finally her husband's death was reported to her and her child, Alice, was sent on to Philadelphia from St. Louis to identify the body so as to get the $100,000 insurance money. She was only given $500 of this money. How, the St. Louis lawyer, got $2,500. Holmes then came to her in St. Louis and said he had left Alice in Cincinnati, and wanted to take Nellie and Howard to her because she was lonesome. Later he said they were in Indianapolis, and he kept up her spirits by showing her letters purporting to come from one of the children. She never saw Alice and Nellie after Holmes got hold of them until she identified the bodies in the morgue at Toronto. Howard she has seen nothing of, except some of his clothing in the coroner's office in Indianapolis.

The other incidents of the session were the reading of the statements made by Holmes to the Boston police when first arrested there on Nov. 17 last, telling the story of conspiracy to swindle the insurance company out of the $100,000 on Pitezel's life.

The cross-examination of the witnesses was conducted actively by Messrs. Shoemaker and Rotan, the lawyers whom Holmes dismissed and then recalled, but it was apparent that it was really Holmes himself who was conducting the defense. He continued to take copious notes, and almost momentarily his attorneys were at the dock side accepting suggestions from him.

In the opinion of all those who heard, except, possibly Holmes and his counsel, the evidence is in itself strong enough to send him to the gallows.

There will be a pretty point of law in the case presently—if anything associated with it can be called so. There is a law here that a wife cannot testify against her husband. In spite of this, Mr. Graham declared that he would call the alleged Mrs. Holmes, or Howard, to the stand. This is why he has been combating Holmes' assertion that this woman, whom Mr. Graham insists on calling Miss Yoke, is his full wife.

ROOSTER KNOCKED OUT.

New York Supreme Court Supports the Decision of the Lower Tribunal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The general term of the supreme court has sustained the decision of Judge Beach in the official ballot case. This forbids the State Democracy from having a list of state candidates printed in the column with its local nominees, under the emblem of a rooster, the State Democracy having held no convention. As originally planned, the State Democracy was represented on the official ballot with the regular Democratic state ticket followed by the State Democracy's local nominees.

The effect of the decision of the supreme court will be to put the State Democracy's local ticket entirely by itself, and deprive the candidates of whatever advantage might accrue through their names appearing in conjunction with the regular Democracy's state ticket.

Miss Sarah Pollock reviewed the work in China.

Swift of India, Mrs. W. M. Stover of Africa, and Mrs. Chauncey Goodrich of China.

The Fire at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 31.—The Lagoon hotel building was entirely consumed in the fire here. The building was a 5-story brick and the finest hotel in the city. It was owned by John W. Bookwalter of New York. The loss is estimated at $100,000, largely insured. On the street fronts were storerooms which contained some of the principal stores in the city. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies' offices were located there and were totally burned. The loss to both companies will run up into the thousands. Other losers are: Sieghalter drugstore, $20,000; Marcelet jewelry store, $20,000; H. T. Harris, cigar store, $2,500; London Clothing store, $15,000; Heison's Furnishing store, $2,500; Craig Millinery store, $2,500. The fire originated in the hotel kitchen. Guests had thrilling escapes.

The through freight crashed into a car of merchandise in the Ohio Southern yards at Springfield, demolishing it and badly injuring the locomotive of the train. Five cars of the train were derailed and more or less injured. The loss will be $750.

Ellsworth Hayes, an 18-year-old boy, living east of Peebles, was attacked and terribly gored by a large bull. His clothes were torn from his body, three ribs broken, a hole gored in his side, and his face badly mashed. He is internally injured and cannot live.

The safe in the general store of N. Sillick, at Van Lee, was broken open with dynamite. The robbers secured $1,000 in cash and some negotiable notes. The current was literally torn to pieces, parts of it being thrown through the windows of buildings across the street.

The work of grading Ridgway avenue is about completed. An immense cut into the hill was required before the level of the grade could be reached.

The athletic classes of the Turners are meeting with the most flattering success, fifteen new pupils being enrolled in the junior class on Tuesday evening.

The board of health will meet at 7 o'clock sharp tomorrow evening in order to get through with business in time to allow the members to attend the McKinley meeting.

Mrs. J. F. McCov, of Third street, received word yesterday that her grandmother, living at Empire, was seriously ill. Mrs. McCov left by the first train for that place.

The clay hands of Knowles, Taylor & Knowles' china works are off work for the remainder of the week, owing to repairs being made in the heating apparatus of the pottery.

George Hale expected to leave for Elmira, N. Y., today, but was intercepted by a subpoena, served by Marshal Gill, calling him to Lisbon to give testimony in the Fastbinder case.

A young lady assisted by a gallant young man attempting to master the festive bike was one of the attractions on Fourth street last night. They caused more amusement for the bystanders than would a side show at a circus.

James Bowman, of Third street, died yesterday after a lingering illness with consumption. Funeral services will be held in the Methodist Protestant church tomorrow afternoon and interment in Spring Grove cemetery.

The dance given the football team by the Phoenix and Columbian clubs at Bradshaw hall last night was a success, both socially and financially. A large crowd danced the light fantastic until an early hour this morning.

The central committee met last night and transacted a small amount of business. Reports of the various committees were received. W. V. Blake was chosen to act as chairman of the McKinley meeting, and the selection of vice presidents was also made.

Knowles, Taylor & Knowles contemplate connecting the eastern end of their decorating shop with the "Buckeye." It is their purpose to build a bridge between the two points that will save a great deal of extra labor entailed by having the ware hauled to the decorating shop.

An employee of the freight depot, who resides in Sunnyside, was surprised beyond measure last night to find the horse and wagon, the latter containing two trunks, of a well known expressman standing in his yard. How the outfit came to be there is a mystery, as the approach to the yard is almost impassable to traffic.

The boiler at the gas well on the ball ground, which has stood there for several years, was removed yesterday to Wellsville. It had only been moved a short time when small boys began to carry away the boards which covered it, and now it would be almost impossible to tell that a gas well had ever been there.

Manager D. E. Gilchrist, of the telephone company, we find to be a clever and courteous gentleman, willing to confer any favors upon patrons of the line compatible with his duty to the company he represents. He has thus far won many friends in East Liverpool by his manner of conducting the business entrusted to his care, and is apparently the right man in the right place. The News Review wishes him success in every measure which has right back of it, and which develops good service for our city.

Some miserable people are starting already to purloin the boards of the grand stand and the fence at the West End park, presumably for the purpose of making kindling wood out of them. It will be remembered that a year or two ago the whole fence was carried away by some one. The Young Men's Christian association boys do not propose to let this occur again this year, and already have persons engaged who will report anyone seen carrying boards away from the ground, and the offenders will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

SURE OF THE ROPE.

Mrs. Pitezel's Story Enough to Hang Holmes.

THE PRISONER SAT UNMOVED.

A Malleous Sneeze Even Played on His Features Over Some of Her Statements. The Poor Woman Had to Be Nerved Up With Medicine.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Four long hours, under the scrutinizing gaze of a courtroom crowded with strangers, a pale, worn woman underwent an ordeal which well might have broken the nerve of many a strong man. She was Mrs. Carrie Alice Pitezel. With bravery and fortitude, she stood the test, in spite of the fact that her physical condition has been so shattered by the battery of woes under which she has all but succumbed, that she was obliged to interrupt her pitiful narrative at frequent intervals to accept spoonfuls of medicine from the trained nurse who attended her.

In a voice broken with grief she told the whole distressing story. How her husband was spirited away from her, and murdered out of sheer greed of gain; how she bade her little ones goodbye, confiding them to the care of the man Holmes in all trustfulness, little thinking that when next she should set eyes on them the two little girls would be lying side by side on the marble slab of a morgue, cold in death, and the boy a parcel of moldering bones. Between her bitter sobs, she related every detail—from the first meeting with Holmes almost up to today, and so affecting was the story that even District Attorney Graham, long used to tales of misery and distress, paused in the examination to wipe away a furtive tear. The woman's physical condition was such that the court clerk had to repeat her testimony after her, because of her weak voice.

The EAGLE HARDWARE CO.

Such Beauties IN LAMPS Has Never Been shown In this city Before. Silk Shades and Globes In Latest Designs and Colors now on Display at

The EAGLE HARDWARE CO. Fifth Street, East Liverpool, O.

Throughout it all the shrunken, pallid figure in the dock—who to one unfamiliar with the shocking story would never be taken for the arch-criminal of the age—sat unmoved. Not a muscle quivered, not a lash moved even when the strain became so great that the hearing halted to give the wretched woman an opportunity to recover herself. Indeed, once or twice, as some statement from her lips struck a chord in his breast—if chords there be in such a man—a malicious sneer played around his thin and bloodless lips. But never once did the woman look towards him. During every moment of the long examination she kept her eyes riveted on the commonwealth's officers or counsel for the defense, as if fearing to shift them to either side, lest in their course they should fall upon the face of the man in the dock.

Mrs. Pitezel told how Holmes dragged her around this country and to points in Canada since July, 29, 1894, under the belief that her husband was alive, but in trouble, and that he was trying to take her to her husband. Finally her husband's death was reported to her and her child, Alice, was sent on to Philadelphia from St. Louis to identify the body so as to get the $10,000 insurance money. She was only given $500 of this money. How, the St. Louis lawyer, got $2,500. Holmes then came to her in St. Louis and said he had left Alice in Cincinnati, and wanted to take Nellie and Howard to her because she was lonesome. Later he said they were in Indianapolis, and he kept up her spirits by showing her letters purporting to come from one of the children. She never saw Alice and Nellie after Holmes got hold of them until she identified the bodies in the morgue at Toronto. Howard she has seen nothing of, except some of his clothing in the coroner's office in Indianapolis.

The other incidents of the session were the reading of the statements made by Holmes to the Boston police when first arrested there on Nov. 17 last, telling the story of conspiracy to swindle the insurance company out of the $10,000 on Pitezel's life.

The cross-examination of the witnesses was conducted actively by Messrs. Shoemaker and Rotan, the lawyers whom Holmes dismissed and then recalled, but it was apparent that it was really Holmes himself who was conducting the defense. He continued to take copious notes, and almost momentarily his attorneys were at the dock side accepting suggestions from him.

In the opinion of all those who heard, except, possibly Holmes and his counsel, the evidence is in itself strong enough to send him to the gallows. There will be a pretty point of law in the case presently—if anything associated with it can be called so. There is a law here that a wife cannot testify against her husband. In spite of this, Mr. Graham declared that he would call the alleged Mrs. Holmes, or Howard, to the stand. This is why he has been combatting Holmes' assertion that this woman, whom Mr. Graham insists on calling Miss Yoke, is his full wife.

Armenians in Revolt.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 31.—It is stated that the situation is so grave that in the Zeitoun mountains and in that district there are 26,000 Armenians in open revolt against the rule of the sultan.

ROOSTER KNOCKED OUT.

New York Supreme Court Supports the Decision of the Lower Tribunal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The general term of the supreme court has sustained the decision of Judge Beach in the official ballot case. This forbids the State Democracy from having a list of state candidates printed in the column with its local nominees, under the emblem of a rooster, the State Democracy having held no convention. As originally planned, the State Democracy was represented on the official ballot with the regular Democratic state ticket followed by the State Democracy's local nominees.

The effect of the decision of the supreme court will be to put the State Democracy's local ticket entirely by itself, and deprive the candidates of whatever advantage might accrue through their names appearing in conjunction with the regular Democracy's state ticket.

Commander Heyerman Dead.

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—Word has been received in this city of the death of Commander Heyerman of the United States navy, who was formerly commander of the Kearsarge. Commander Heyerman died on board the North German Lloyd steamer Havel while en route to Dresden, where he was to visit his mother. The remains are now at Bremen.

PAID A $9,000 DEBT.

Many Addresses Made at the Missionary Convention at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—It was announced to the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior at their meeting that a debt of $9,000 of several years' standing had been paid off and all current obligations met. The board was formally welcomed to the city by Rev. Dr. H. M. Ladd and Mrs. B. F. Whitman. "Current Events in the Kingdom of God," were then spoken of by Mrs. Moses Smith. Mrs. G. B. Wilcox gave a review of the work in India, Ceylon, Japan and Mexico, and was followed by Miss Eva M. Swift of Hadura, India, in an urgent appeal for renewed effort. Miss Sarah Pollock reviewed the work in China.

The home department was reviewed by Mrs. George M. Clark, and an address upon the value of educational work was made by Mrs. E. W. Blatchford. Then came a number of sectional conferences, the delegates separating into groups and discussing individual lines of work. Missionary addresses were made by Miss Lizzie G. Webb of Turkey, Miss Eva M. Swift of India, Mrs. W. M. Stover of Africa, and Mrs. Chauncey Goodrich of China.

The Fire at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 31.—The Lagonda hotel building was entirely consumed in the fire here. The building was a 5-story brick and the finest hostelry in the city. It was owned by John W. Bookwalter of New York. The loss is estimated at $100,000; partially insured. On the street floors were storehouses which contained some of the principal stores in the city. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies' offices were located there and were totally burned. The loss to both companies will run up into the thousands. Other losers are: Sieghalter drugstore, loss $10,000; Marcelet jewelry store, $20,000; H. T. Harris, cigar store, $2,500; London Clothing store, $15,000; Heison's Furnishing store, $2,500; Craig Millinery store, $2,500. The fire originated in the hotel kitchen. Guests had thrilling escapes.

Brice's New Railroad Scheme.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—It is announced again here that Senator Brice has completed contracts for a new line between Chicago and Cincinnati. He will run from Chicago to Sherwood, O., over the Baltimore and Ohio, thence over his own line, the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw, to Franklin; thence over the Cincinnati and Middletown railway, entering Cincinnati over the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern railway, which Brice is said to have controlled some time.

In No Trouble With Germany.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 31.—State Insurance Commissioner Hahn enjoyed a hearty laugh when he read that he had got into trouble with the German government about the admission of German insurance companies to do business in Ohio. "There was never a German company admitted to Ohio," said he, "and so far as I know, none ever applied for admission."

Bookkeeper and Money Missing.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—Charles Weaver, the bookkeeper of the Cincinnati Abattoir company, has suddenly left town, and with his departure comes the announcement that $1,700 in cash, which was deposited in the company's safe, is missing.

Jesse Cozzy Gone to Cuba.

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 31.—Jesse Cozzy, son of the Commonwealer, has wired his mother that he has sailed for Cuba on the Adriatic. It is believed he will join the Cuban insurgents.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

Fred C. Allen, of Cleveland, has been appointed a railway mail clerk. Emmett Lyle was shot by Lafayette Rupe at Kyger during a quarrel. Rupe had been driven out of Lyle's cornfield, and on Lyle's renewing his assault, shot him in the thigh. Rupe is in jail.

The through freight crashed into a car of merchandise in the Ohio Southern yards at Springfield, demolishing it and badly injuring the locomotive of the train. Five cars of the train were derailed and more or less injured. The loss will be $700.

Ellsworth Hayes, an 18-year-old boy, living east of Leebles, was attacked and terribly gored by a large bull. His clothes were torn from his body, three ribs broken, a hole gored in his side, and his face badly mangled. He is internally injured and cannot live.

The safe in the general store of N. Sillick, at Van Lee, was broken open with dynamite. The robbers secured $1,000 in currency and some negotiable notes. The safe was literally torn to pieces, parts of it being thrown through the windows of buildings across the street.

Some miserable people are starting already to purloin the boards of the grand stand and the fence at the West End park, presumably for the purpose of making kindling wood out of them. It will be remembered that a year or two ago the whole fence was carried away by someone. The Young Men's Christian association boys do not propose to let this occur again this year, and already have persons engaged who will report anyone seen carrying boards away from the ground, and the offenders will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

SHE WAXETH ANGRY

And Makes Indignant Denial of the Report.

SHE HAS NO IDEA OF MARRIAGE

A Young and Fair Damsel of East Liverpool Is Very Much Wrought Up Over the Report That She Contemplates Wedding a Man Who Would Basely Desert His Wife and Children.

The News Review was the scene of an animated conversation last evening, when an excited and angry maiden, with righteous indignation in her lovely orbs, and exceeding volubility on the tip of her well-oiled tongue, made the life of the news-gatherer weary, as she called him to account for daring to even insinuate that she would for a moment contemplate matrimony with an individual who would basely desert a wife on the other side of the wide, deep and damp pond, separating the United States from merrie England. After the sheet lightning consequent upon her first attack had become somewhat subdued and dimmed, and the pencil shaver had in a measure recovered from the rude shock to his sensitive nerves, the query was made as to why this onslaught upon a man in his own castle, as Harry Hughes would say in regard to Officer Earl's late invasion of private premises; and then this fair and fascinating maiden thus explained:

"Did you not, some time since, publish an account in your paper respecting a contemplated marriage between a widower from England and a young lady resident of East Liverpool?"

The scribe replied that he dared not deny the soft impeachment, but that he had made use of no names, to which the maiden made angry answer:

"No. You made mention of no names, but everybody within ten squares of my home knows who you have reference to, and my life has been made a burden to me in consequence of your attending to everybody's business but your own. I think you are just too mean for anything, and if I had a brother I'd make him horsewhip you within an inch of your life. Why can't you mind your own affairs and leave other people alone?"

The faber shaver replied that the conundrum was too tough for him, but wanted to know if the widower in question had not been paying some attention to her and if report had not been spread abroad that a marriage with him was a possibility on her part, and with sheet lightning flashing from her eyes she made answer:

"Yes, if you must know all about the matter; he was paying attention to me, and we were engaged to be married; but I thought he was a single man, and when I found that he had been divorced from his wife in England, and was informed that he was the father of two children, and that the little ones were on the parish, the subject of common charity, I gave him the cold shoulder in a jiffy, and I wouldn't marry him if he was the last man on earth; so there, and don't you forget to tell the people all about it in tomorrow's paper."

The reporter was compelled to promise, in order to save his life, and this is his excuse for inflicting a chestnut upon a long-suffering, patient and forbearing public. Selah.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Henderson-Hard Nuptials.

A very pretty marriage ceremony was solemnized at the residence of J. W. Albright on Avondale street yesterday afternoon. The contracting parties were Mrs. Luella Hard, daughter of J. W. Albright, and Elmer L. Henderson, of Beaver Falls. Doctor Huston said the words that made them man and wife. After the ceremony was performed all sat down to an elaborate wedding supper. A number of handsome presents were received and good wishes and congratulations were offered the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will make their home at the residence of the groom at Beaver Falls.

Police Court.

Interviews with prominent business men and property holders, great and small, in East Liverpool, respecting the much talked of police court, demonstrates the fact that the very large majority of them are directly and emphatically opposed to any such court being established here. Councilmen have also been interviewed, and one intelligent member of that body has stated that he deprecates any action in the premises on the part of the council of the city as a body, and that he will, if the matter is brought up in the council chamber, warmly advocate the idea of leaving it to the voters of the city to decide.

We Will Win.

Hon. A. H. McCoy returned from Columbus today after a brief visit at that place. He says that the regular oldtime enthusiasm that prevailed in the campaign 30 years ago is being repeated out there this fall. Both sides are actively engaged in preparing for the battle, although a prominent Democrat who occupies a high official position in Columbus, in an outburst of confidence, said to Mr. McCoy that, owing to the diversity of opinion among the ranks of the Democracy in regard to the money question, he thought the Republicans would be victorious in the coming election.

SPRING CHICKENS

Let your lady friends hear Major Dane at the Grand tonight.

SMALLER THAN USUAL

"Pellets" are superior in a great many ways to all mineral waters, sedative powders, salts, castor oil fruit syrups, laxative teas, and other purgative compounds. Made of concentrated vegetable ingredients, they act in a mild, natural way. Their secondary effect is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. They don't interfere in the least with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular sections. Thus they act in nature's own way. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve distress from over-eating, they are unequalled.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Once used, always in favor.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. FILIBUSTERS LANDED SAFELY.

Successful Expedition Reported in These Dispatches Came From Canada.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 31.—There now seems to be little doubt that the two boats, containing 34 Cubans, and the two other boats, having on board 32 cases of arms and ammunition, which were picked up off New York by the steamship, Laurada, Captain Hughes, as the latter reported on his arrival here, as given in these dispatches yesterday, composed the expedition headed by Carlos Manuel y Cespedes, which is said to have left Canada for Cuba. The Cubans are said to have made their way down the coast, through New York state and to have embarked in the boats which were picked up by the Laurada.

When the Laurada neared the coast of Cuba the men picked up by that vessel off New York, as already detailed, asked to be allowed to land, and subsequently did so, near Guantanamo, on Sunday last, Oct. 27. Among the Cubans landed, in addition to Cespedes, it is said, were Captain Jose Lopez, Dr. Serafin Martinez, Lamiero Cespedes and a number of others. One version of the affair is that over 100 men composed the expedition which landed near Guantanamo. The cases of arms were, it is believed, Winchester rifles and matchlocks, and it is reported, the Cubans had about 500,000 rounds of ammunition with them, in addition to dynamite cartridges and medicine.

SHE WAXETH ANGRY

And Makes Indignant Denial of the Report.

SHE HAS NO IDEA OF MARRIAGE

A Young and Fair Damsel of East Liverpool Is Very Much Wrought Up Over the Report That She Contemplates Wedding a Man Who Would Basely Desert His Wife and Children.

The NEWS REVIEW was the scene of an animated conversation last evening, when an excited and angry maiden, with righteous indignation in her lovely orbs, and exceeding volubility on the tip of her well-oiled tongue, made the life of the news-gatherer weary, as she called him to account for daring to even insinuate that she would for a moment contemplate matrimony with an individual who would basely desert a wife on the other side of the wide, deep and damp pond, separating the United States from merrie England. After the sheet lightning consequent upon her first attack had become somewhat subdued and dimmed, and the pencil shaver had in a measure recovered from the rude shock to his sensitive nerves, the query was made as to why this onslaught upon a man in his own castle, as Harry Hughes would say in regard to Officer Earl's late invasion of private premises; and then this fair and fascinating maiden thus explained:

"Did you not, some time since, publish an account in your paper respecting a contemplated marriage between a widower from England and a young lady resident of East Liverpool?"

The scribe replied that he dared not deny the soft impeachment, but that he had made use of no names, to which the maiden made angry answer:

"No. You made mention of no names, but everybody within ten squares of my home knows who you have reference to, and my life has been made a burden to me in consequence of your attending to everybody's business but your own. I think you are just too mean for anything, and if I had a brother I'd make him horsewhip you within an inch of your life. Why can't you mind your own affairs and leave other people alone?"

The faber shaver replied that the conundrum was too tough for him, but wanted to know if the widower in question had not been paying some attention to her and if report had not been spread abroad that a marriage with him was a possibility on her part, and with sheet lightning flashing from her eyes she made answer:

"Yes, if you must know all about the matter; he was paying attention to me, and we were engaged to be married; but I thought he was a single man, and when I found that he had been divorced from his wife in England, and was informed that he was the father of two children, and that the little ones were on the parish, the subject of common charity, I gave him the cold shoulder in a jiffy, and I wouldn't marry him if he was the last man on earth; so there, and don't you forget to tell the people all about it in tomorrow's paper."

The reporter was compelled to promise, in order to save his life, and this is his excuse for inflicting a chestnut upon a long-suffering, patient and forbearing public. Selah.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Henderson-Hard Nuptials.

A very pretty marriage ceremony was solemnized at the residence of J. W. Albright on Avondale street yesterday afternoon. The contracting parties were Mrs. Luella Hard, daughter of J. W. Albright, and Elmer L. Henderson, of Beaver Falls. Doctor Huston said the words that made them man and wife. After the ceremony was performed all sat down to an elaborate wedding supper. A number of handsome presents were received and good wishes and congratulations were offered the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will make their home at the residence of the groom at Beaver Falls.

Police Court.

Interviews with prominent business men and property holders, great and small, in East Liverpool, respecting the much talked of police court, demonstrates the fact that the very large majority of them are directly and emphatically opposed to any such court being established here. Councilmen have also been interviewed, and one intelligent member of that body has stated that he deprecates any action in the premises on the part of the council of the city as a body, and that he will, if the matter is brought up in the council chamber, warmly advocate the idea of leaving it to the voters of the city to decide.

We Will Win.

Hon. A. H. McCoy returned from Columbus today after a brief visit at that place. He says that the regular oldtime enthusiasm that prevailed in the campaign 30 years ago is being repeated over there this fall. Both sides are actively engaged in preparing for the battle, although a prominent Democrat who occupies a high official position in Columbus, in an outburst of confidence, said to Mr. McCoy that, owing to the diversity of opinion among the ranks of the Democracy in regard to the money question, he thought the Republicans would be victorious in the coming election.

SMALLER THAN USUAL

"Pellets" are superior in a great many ways to all mineral waters, sedits powders, and other purgative compounds. Made of concentrated vegetable ingredients, they act in a mild, natural way. Their secondary effect is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. They don't interfere in the least with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, gripping or shock to the system.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve distress from over-eating, they are unequalled.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Once used, always in favor.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be just as good. It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. FILIBUSTERS LANDED SAFELY.

Successful Expedition Reported in These Dispatches Came From Canada.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 31.—There now seems to be little doubt that the two boats, containing 34 Cubans, and the two other boats, having on board 32 cases of arms and ammunition, which were picked up off New York by the steamship Laurada, Captain Hughes, as the latter reported on his arrival here, as given in these dispatches yesterday, composed the expedition headed by Carlos Manuel y Cespedes, which is said to have left Canada for Cuba. The Cubans are said to have made their way down the coast, through New York state and to have embarked in the boats which were picked up by the Laurada.

When the Laurada neared the coast of Cuba the men picked up by that vessel off New York, as already detailed, asked to be allowed to land, and subsequently did so, near Guantanamo, on Sunday last, Oct. 27. Among the Cubans landed, in addition to Cespedes, it is said, were Captain Jose Lopez, Dr. Serafin Martinez, Lamiero Cespedes and a number of others. One version of the affair is that over 100 men composed the expedition which landed near Guantanamo. The cases of arms were, it is believed, Winchester rifles and machetes, and, it is reported, the Cubans had about 500,000 rounds of ammunition with them. In addition to dynamite cartridges and medicine.
